CSC manages institutions, treatment centres, four Aboriginal healing lodges, community correctional centres and parole offices. In addition, CSC has 5 regional headquarters that provide management and administrative support and serve as the delivery arm of CSC's programs and services.

CSC provides support and services to all federal offenders of all religious backgrounds, as required under the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, and section 75 of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, which states:

ANNEX A

DRAFT STATEMENT OF WORK

The Correctional Service of Canada (CSC) has a requirement for Integrated Chaplaincy Services at CSC institutions across Canada.

1. Objective:

Provide religious and spiritual services to federal offenders of all faiths residing in CSC's institutions.

2. Background:

- 2.1 CSC is a federal government agency responsible for administering sentences of a term of two years or more, as imposed by the courts. CSC is responsible for managing institutions across Canada of various security levels and supervising offenders under conditional release in the community.
- 2.2 CSC contributes to public safety through the custody and reintegration of offenders. This includes both the custodial and community supervision of offenders, including those with Long Term Supervision (LTSOs) for periods of up to 10 years. CSC is currently responsible for approximately 15,000 inmates and 8,000 offenders actively supervised in the community.
- 2.3 CSC has a presence from coast to coast, in large urban centres with increasingly diverse populations, to more remote Inuit communities across the North. CSC manages institutions, treatment centres, four Aboriginal healing lodges, community correctional centres and parole offices. In addition, CSC has five regional headquarters that provide management and administrative support and serve as the delivery arm of CSC's programs and services.
- 2.4 CSC provides support and services to all federal offenders of all religious backgrounds, as required under the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, and section 75 of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, which states:

An inmate is entitled to reasonable opportunities to freely and openly participate in, and express, religion or spirituality, subject to such reasonable limits as are prescribed for protecting the security of the penitentiary or the safety of persons.

3. Scope and Requirement:

The Offeror must provide Qualified Professional Official Representatives (QPOR) of Canada's religious and spiritual communities as resources to supply institutional chaplaincy services in order to meet the following requirements:

- a) In response to a call-up issued by CSC, provide a minimum of 1 QPOR resource for a minimum of 125 and a maximum of 185 hours per month, as the site-based chaplain for each of the institutions identified in Appendix 1, except for the following Institutions, Centres and Aboriginal Healing Lodges: Regional Mental Health Centre (QUE), Regional Treatment Centre (ONT), Grierson Institution, Pê Sâkâstêw Centre, Willow Cree Healing Centre, Okimaw Ohci Healing Lodge, and the Kwikwêxwelhp Healing Village, representing approximately 35 resources. Each site-based chaplain must ensure the provision of religious and spiritual services (with the sole exception of Aboriginal Spirituality) for all inmates at the site. The religious and spiritual services include the facilitation of all religious and spiritual rites, rituals, worship and other observances; spiritual care; religious and spiritual education activities; community involvement; activities that constitute visible presence; and, integration of Chaplaincy services in the institution, as stipulated in this Statement of Work. The site-based chaplain may provide input on any requirement for specific religious and spiritual service.

As and when required the Offeror must provide a backup site-based chaplain for each of the institutions identified in Appendix 1, with the exception of those noted above. The back-up chaplain may be used when there is an identified requirement for the replacement of the primary resource, whether to backfill vacation or other extended absences of greater than five (5) business days, and as approved by the Project Authority.

- b) Provide QPOR resources for specific religious and spiritual services to inmates on an as-and-when-requested basis as directed and required by the Project Authority through the issuance of a call-up, based on a demographically responsive, tradition-specific model of spiritual and religious service provision, representing approximately 120 resources. These services include the provision of rites, rituals and observances; spiritual care; religious and spiritual education activities; community involvement; and, input concerning integration of these services in the institution.
